PRIDE AND RESPONSIBILITY

Our motto, Pride and Responsibility, derived from the initials of the school, are the values which we hope to instil in our students.

These virtues, like sails in the wind, will carry us forward to success and work excellence. The waves that form the base on which Pride and Responsibility rest, symbolise our students' aesthetic and moral development, which are integral to their all-rounded education.

COLOURS

YELLOW AND GREEN

The school colours, yellow and green, represent the freshness and enlightenment a sound education provides.

It is the school's aspiration to provide the best possible education for our students to ensure that the future generations of Singapore citizens will show pride in their pursuits and shoulder their responsibilities with commitment and dedication.

The Pasirian Family

Verse 1

A place in Tampines
A place with a new story
Going through many journeys
Creating fondest memories

My teachers saw me grow
My friends I'll never let go
Soaring through the clouds
I learnt to stand proud
Now I just wanna shout out loud

Chorus

Pasir Ris my family
I found a friend and company
Pasir Ris believes in me
She's always there for me

Pasir Ris I'm proud of thee
I'll be the best I know I'll be Doing my part, with all my heart
for my Pasirian family

Verse 2

She shines the path of light
She shows a future that's bright
Guiding me to what is right
Helping me reach greater heights

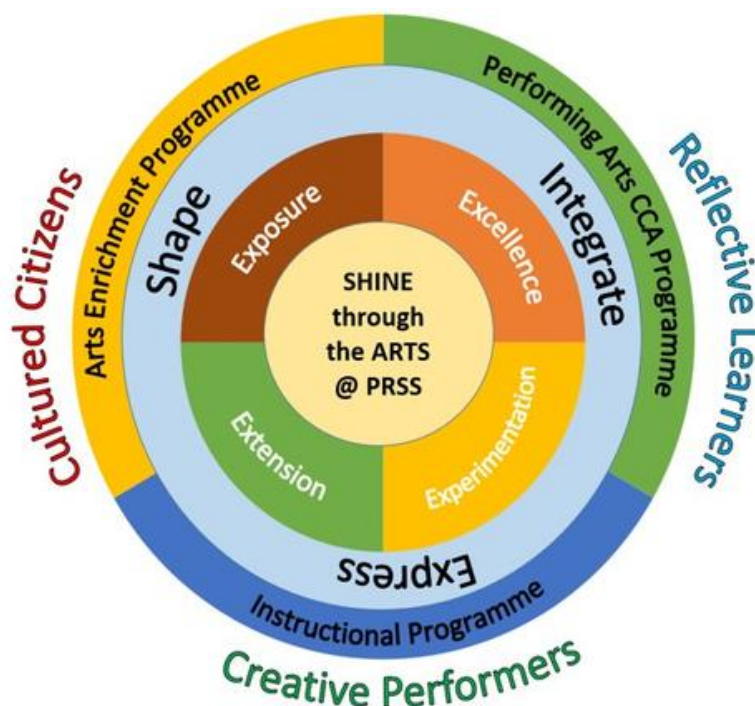

My friends are my family
Making history
All those days we work and play
They'll always be with me

Bridge

Those big waves we rode together
And all the storms, we will weather
It doesn't matter where I am
A Pasirian, I will always be Always be

Cyber Wellness

Cyber Wellness (CW) refers to the positive well-being of Internet users. It involves an understanding of online behaviour and awareness of how to protect oneself in cyberspace. The focus of CW is about helping students to become discerning and responsible digital learners. When navigating cyberspace, students should demonstrate respect for self and others and practise safe and responsible use. Students should also be a positive peer influence by harnessing technology for collaboration, learning and productivity as well as advocating positive use of technology for the good of the community.

The 3 Cyber Wellness Key Messages

- Embrace the affordances of technology while maintaining a balanced lifestyle between offline and online activities.
- Be a safe and responsible user of technology and maintain a positive online presence.
- Be responsible for personal well-being in cyberspace.

Common Examples of Cyber Issues and How to Deal with Them

Cyber Wellness

2. Excessive Use Of Internet / Gaming

What is this cyber issue?
In today's digital age, we are online to chat with family and friends, learn new information, shop, play games and pick up new hobbies. However, when we overindulge or engage excessively in online activities, it can affect other aspects of our daily lives. At times, we may find it difficult to stop ourselves from spending too much time online, or we may feel moody and anxious when we are unable to engage in online activities. Some signs to watch out for:
	Constantly listens out for the phone when away from it; feels distressed when it cannot be found		Wakes up in the middle of the night to use the phone; sleep deprivation
	Experiences health issues such as obesity, muscle and joint ache		Goes online to escape from stress
	Lies about time spent online to family and friends		Gives up or replaces social events or hobbies for Internet use
	Feels irritable or anxious when not allowed to use the Internet		Keeps spending more money on online activities
	Performs poorly in school due to inability to focus

How can I deal with this cyber issue?
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Explore offline activities (e.g. sports, reading, volunteer work, start a new hobby) with friends and family. 2. Set a time limit or a schedule for internet use and/or gaming. Use a timer or an app to keep track and stick to it. 3. Create an internet / game free zone. Disable unnecessary notifications to keep out distractions. Prioritise your tasks and complete them. 4. Have a tech-free time between 15 and 30 minutes before your sleep. Switch off all gadgets and/or keep them out of your room.

Cyber Wellness in PRSS

Cyber Wellness (CW) Lessons are conducted during the AC2E periods in PRSS and seeks to equip students with life-long social-emotional competencies and sound values so that they can become safe, respectful and responsible users of Information and Communications Technology (ICT).

The Cyber Wellness Champs in every class further help to advocate CW messages to their classmates by being a positive role model as well as the sharing reminders with the school on how to keep themselves safe online prior to the term holidays. The CW Champs also conduct the Cyber Wellness Fest for the Sec 1s, where they teach their juniors the Cyber Wellness Principles of Respecting Self and Others and Safe and Responsible Use through games.

Pasirians are strongly encouraged to speak to a trusted adult (e.g., parent, Home Teacher, subject teachers, school counsellor) when they, or their peers, are faced with cyber issues.

Classroom Routines

Students are expected to abide by the CHAMPS routine (page 42) when using their Personal Learning Device (PLD) in school. The routines are intended to guide students in using their PLDs responsibly through good usage habits and handling their devices with care.

Customised student development experiences such as career talks or fairs, Post-Secondary Education Institution (PSEI) open house visits, etc. also provide students opportunities to explore their interests. Students can also utilise the MySkillsFuture Student Portal for further exploration.

In-house talks and workshops are also conducted by our ECG Counsellor on Early-Admissions-Exercise (EAE), Direct-Entry-Scheme to Polytechnic Programme (DPP) and Direct School Admission for junior colleges (DSA-JC) to help students prepare in their applications to various PSEIs via these alternative routes.

Pasirians can also book ECG counselling sessions with our in-house ECG Counsellor for both face-to-face or zoom consultations via the following QR code or link:

Mental Health and Resilience

Mental well-being is an important aspect of our overall health and development. Having healthy life habits, such as having a healthy diet, exercising regularly, having sufficient sleep and managing screen time, can help us to maintain positive well-being and feel our best everyday.

Why focus on mental health?

As you are growing up in an increasingly dynamic and complex environment, it is important to understand what supports your mental well-being. Learning to differentiate between normal stress and distress helps you cope effectively with current challenges and future uncertainties. By building your resilience, maintaining good mental health and increasing your help-seeking efficacy, you strengthen your ability to survive and thrive. With on-going broader efforts in our society to de-stigmatise mental issues, it is also important for us to learn how to respond with empathy and support - both in your friendships and the wider community. Together, we can create a more caring and inclusive environment where everyone feels safe to talk about their mental health and seek help when needed.

Mental Health Education in PRSS

Mental Health Education (MHE) builds on the foundation of Social and Emotional learning to equip you with knowledge, values and competencies to maintain your well-being. Through MHE, you will learn to better understand common mental health problems and their symptoms, recognise signs of mental distress, know when and how to seek help and support. It also helps you develop empathy and care towards people with mental health problems or mental illnesses.

As part of learning to build resilience, you are encouraged to use the “I Am, I Can, I Have” framework to reflect on your strengths and support systems:

By understanding and applying these, you can strengthen your ability to cope with difficulties, build confidence, and contribute to a more caring and supportive community in PRSS.

PRSS Assessment Policy

INTENT

The PRSS Assessment Policy guides the planning and administration of assessments, outlining standards and practices that support student learning and development. It ensures alignment between Content, Pedagogy, and Assessment to create a learner-centered, balanced system that fosters quality teaching and learning.

With EdTech Master Plan 2030 and MOE's focus on 21CC, the policy has been updated to integrate technology to enhance assessment practices. Digital tools personalize learning, foster self-directed learning, and improve feedback mechanisms, empowering students as Assessment Capable Visible Learners (ACVL).

RATIONALE OF ASSESSMENT

Assessment is integral to student learning and development at PRSS. In nurturing Assessment Capable Visible Learners (ACVL) (Hattie, 2011; Frey et al., 2018), we shift the focus from academic results to fostering a love for learning. ACVLs take ownership of their progress, using assessment to track growth against personal goals.

Aligned with the EdTech Master Plan 2030, PRSS assessment practices promote lifelong learning, student agency, and inclusivity through technology. Digital tools enable self- and peer-assessment, while online platforms provide timely, data-driven feedback, reinforcing assessment's formative role. Technology also supports differentiated learning, catering to diverse student needs, particularly within the Full-Subject Based Banding (FSBB) framework, fostering an inclusive classroom environment. More specifically, assessments:

- Inform students of their progress in mastering knowledge, skills, attitudes, and values, aligned with curricular and co-curricular outcomes.
- Enhance student learning and motivation through timely and regular feedback on performance, in relation to success criteria and learning intentions.
- Provide meaningful feedback to teachers on students' learning, guiding instructional design and delivery.
- Feed forward learning, helping students understand how to progress (Frey et al., 2018).

ASSESSMENT STRUCTURE

To ensure a Balanced Assessment, PRSS employs both Assessment for Learning (AfL) and Assessment of Learning (AoL) to evaluate students' knowledge and skills in a valid, reliable, and holistic manner.

- Assessment for Learning (AfL): Embedded in every lesson through observations and questioning, AfL checks students' understanding and guides learning toward intended outcomes. It encourages students to think critically, connect new information to prior knowledge, and construct deeper learning (Earl, 2006).
- Assessment of Learning (AoL): Conducted at key junctures, AoL evaluates students' progress and readiness to advance. It provides valuable insights for teachers, students, and parents. End-of-Year examinations and other AoL practices align with the Curriculum Policy Office's assessment pitching guidelines (2020).

A balanced assessment system, integrating AfL and AoL, is enhanced by technology in alignment with the EdTech Master Plan. Digital platforms enable real-time AfL practices—such as interactive quizzes, polls, and online collaboration—providing instant feedback to adjust teaching strategies. For AoL, e-assessments ensure standardized, reliable evaluation while leveraging AI-driven analytics to track student progress.

MODES OF ASSESSMENT

PRSS adopts a holistic approach to assessment, utilizing diverse and progressive methods for both formative and summative purposes. This allows students to demonstrate learning in varied ways aligned with assessment objectives while developing 21st Century Competencies (21CC). ICT is leveraged to enhance formative assessment, ensuring meaningful evaluation across curricular and co-curricular domains.

EdTech tools expand assessment modes, improving effectiveness and fostering 21CC development. Digital learning environments like the Student Learning Space (SLS) and Google Classroom facilitate seamless assessments. Key applications of technology in assessment include:

- Online quizzes, automated grading, and interactive assessments via platforms like SLS and Google Classroom.
- E-assessments for languages (English and MTL) and the progressive adoption of digital formats.
- Data analytics to track learning patterns and provide targeted interventions.
- Alternative assessments, such as digital portfolios, video presentations, and gamified learning experiences, to assess critical thinking and creativity.

PRSS Assessment Policy

A. Assessment in the Academic Domain

To foster progressive development of subject content, learning dispositions, and skills, the school employs diverse modes of assessment. A key application of technologies (KAT) is Assessment for Learning (AfL), where a wide range of educational software and applications are utilized to support both formative and summative assessments. Results are formally reported under the Weighted Assessment (WA) or End-of-Year Exam components. Examples of assessment modes include:

- Short quizzes or performance tasks conducted in physical or online classrooms (e.g., via SLS or Google Classroom)
- Pen-and-paper tests
- Alternative assessments (e.g., performance tasks, authentic assessments)
- Official formal assessments prescribed by the Ministry of Education (MOE) for various syllabuses, including the progressive implementation of e-assessments since 2022 (e.g., e-assessments for languages such as English and Mother Tongue Languages).

To ensure students' well-being, alternative modes of assessment are strategically spaced throughout the academic year, with students typically managing no more than three projects at any given time. The number of pen-and-paper tests is capped at three per day, in line with the guidelines set for National Examinations.

B. Assessment for Learning in Character and Citizenship Education (CCE)

The school adopts a three-pronged approach to assess student development and performance in Character and Citizenship Education (CCE). This approach includes teacher observations, student reflections, and peer feedback. These assessments are integrated across various CCE learning experiences, including CCE lessons, level camps, Values-in-Action (VIA), Education & Career Guidance (ECG), and student leadership programs. These assessments contribute to the overall Conduct Grade (CG) and Personal Qualities (PQ) awarded to students at the end of each semester:

- Conduct Grade (CG): A summative grade reflecting the students' overall behavior, attitude, and progress within the school environment.
- Personal Qualities (PQ): An assessment of how students demonstrate school values, highlighting both their strengths and areas for further development and growth.

This holistic assessment approach supports the development of students in both academic and personal dimensions, fostering their growth as responsible and engaged citizens.

C. Assessment in Physical Education (PE)

Assessment in PE is focused on three key areas: Cognitive, Affective, and Psychomotor, with both formative and summative assessments conducted to evaluate student progress.

Formative assessments in PE are centered on the learning outcomes of each module and are carried out through self-assessment, peer assessment, or teacher assessment. These assessments provide ongoing feedback to guide students' learning and development throughout the course.

Summative assessments, conducted at the end of each semester, evaluate the cognitive (50%) and affective (50%) components of the PE module. The cognitive component is assessed through a theory paper, while the affective component is based on the school's PRIZE values, reflecting students' attitudes and behavior in relation to the curriculum.

ASSESSMENT FEEDBACK

Feedback, both quantitative and qualitative, plays a crucial role in supporting student learning. It is integrated into various assessment tasks and delivered through written and verbal forms. The purpose of feedback is to "progressively close the gap between present and desired performance" (Frey et al., 2018, citing Hattie, 2009). Effective feedback addresses three key questions:

- Feed Up – What are the learning goals, as reflected by success criteria and learning intentions?
- Feed Back – How is the learner progressing toward these goals?
- Feed Forward – What actions can the learner take to continue moving forward?

Traditionally, feedback has been provided by teachers. However, to strengthen students' assessment capabilities, checklists and rubrics are now used to support self-assessment and peer evaluation. This approach empowers students to take a more active role in their learning.

To ensure effective learning, feedback is provided at regular intervals, minimizing the time lag between performance tasks and feedback. This enables students to assess their progress quickly and make timely adjustments to their learning strategies.

Technology enhances feedback processes by providing timely, specific, and actionable insights. Digital assessment platforms enable:

- Automated feedback on quizzes and assignments, allowing immediate corrections and learning adjustments.
- AI-generated feedback to track student progress and inform their next steps.
- Online rubrics and checklists for self- and peer-assessment, promoting student agency.
- Adaptive learning technologies that offer personalized recommendations for improvement.

By aligning PRSS's Assessment Policy with the EdTech Master Plan 2030, the school ensures a forward-thinking approach that leverages technology to enhance assessment practices, foster student ownership of learning, and develop the competencies necessary for lifelong success.

Assessment Report

(a) School-Based Assessment - Weighted Assessments & End-of-Year Examination

The removal of mid-year examinations for all levels by 2022 is another step towards fostering the joy of learning and part of ongoing efforts to move away from an overemphasis in academic grades. The school has reviewed and refined its school-based assessments (SBA) to foster student agency and the development of desired learning dispositions.

Weighted Assessment (WA) refers to an assessment where the score forms part of the computation of the student's overall results in a subject for the year. It also serves formative purposes, i.e. to find out how effective the teaching process has been, and to diagnose the strengths and weaknesses of the students, with a view to taking corrective measures where necessary. End-of-Year Examinations (EYEs) are summative in nature and provide a milestone check on the students' learning progress during the year.

Weightings for the various WAs and EYEs are as follows:

Sec 1 and 2 subjects with fSBB (G3/G2/G1)

Level		T1 (WA1)	T2 (WA2)	T3 (WA3)	T4 (EYE)
Sec 1-2	English, (Higher) Mother Tongue, Mathematics, Science, Literature in English*, Geography*, History*	15%	15%	15%	55%

*For History and Geography, WA2 and WA3 are made up of the Historical Inquiry and Geographical Inquiry projects, which collectively makes up 30% of the year's work. 2024 Sec 1 Students taking G1 Humanities will not be sitting for History, Geography and Literature in English.

(b) Holistic Reporting

The school seeks to provide regular, timely and meaningful feedback on students' development in both the academic and non-academic areas. The Semestral Reports, Progress Test Reports, Holistic Development Profile (HDP) and Conduct Grade provide parents with a comprehensive picture of their children's progress and learning throughout the year. The holistic feedback reported is as follow:

- Progress Reports (end of Term 1 and Term 3)
 - Tests, projects and assignments as part of WA;
- Semestral Reports (after WA2 and Preliminary/ End-of-Year Examinations respectively)
 - WA and SA (where relevant) results
 - Holistic Development Profile (HDP) and Conduct Grade

(c) Absence from Exams and Tests

Students who are absent from exams/tests are to submit valid official documentation such as a Medical Certificate from a certified doctor to account for their absence. Students who do not submit valid documentation may be given zero mark for the exams/tests they have missed.

The table below details the awarding of marks for absentees:

EYE
S/N	Scenario	Action to be Taken
1	Absent for 50% or less of the paper with valid MC.	Compute the overall marks based on the papers the student has taken and award 'VR' for paper missed
2	Absent for more than 50% of the subject with valid MC.	A 'VR' is to be awarded for the subject.
3	Absent for exam without a valid MC.	Zero mark for the paper(s) the student did not take.

PRSS Assessment Policy

SCHOOL BASED ASSESSMENT (SBA)

Conduct of examination

All students are expected to be at their best conduct during tests and examinations. Any act that places a student's integrity in question during tests and exams, e.g., cheating, attempting to cheat or assisting others in cheating will be treated as a discipline case. Zero marks are given to students found cheating.

- Students are required to attend the flag-raising ceremony during the examination period and attendance will be taken. For students who are only sitting for the second paper of the day, they may report to school 30 minutes before the start of the examination.

- Students should report to the examination venue and be seated at least 15 minutes before the start of the examination.

- Students who are late for the examination are to inform their Home Teachers and report to the General Office. No make-up time will be given for students who are late for the examination. Students who are more than 30 minutes late without a valid reason may not be allowed to take the examination. In the event of a major train disruption, affected students will be given the full duration to sit the paper as long as they arrive before the end of the paper.

- Students must place all their belongings, unauthorised reference materials (e.g., textbooks and notes) and electronic devices (e.g., mobile phones, smart watches, fitness trackers, earphones, tablets) in their bags in front of the classroom or outside the hall. All stationery/belongings (e.g., pencil case, mathematical set, calculators) used during the examination must not have any unauthorised notes/information written on them.

- Students are only allowed to use MOE-approved calculators and electronic dictionaries for the examination. Students should remove their calculator covers and place them in their bags before the examination. Calculators must not have any mathematical formulas, conversion tables and instructions. The original model number and brand of the calculator/ electronic dictionary must be indicated clearly on the devices for verification purposes.

- Students should not use any form of correction fluid/tape during the examination. Students should bring their own stationery (e.g., rulers, erasers, brushes, calculators) for the examination. No sharing of stationery/calculator/ electronic dictionary is allowed during the examination.

- Students must not communicate or attempt to communicate with one another or any unauthorised examination personnel inside or outside the examination room.

- Students are not allowed to leave the examination room unescorted or without permission from authorised examination personnel.

- Students who are absent during the examination must produce a medical certificate.

- If a student is unwell before the start of the examination and signs out at the General Office, he/she must submit a medical certificate to his/her Home Teacher upon return to school. If a student signs out after the examination has started, the marks obtained for all questions attempted will count towards the Semestral Assessment grade.

- Students are not allowed to leave the school premises during break time between examination papers, whether the papers are held in the morning or afternoon.

Intent

Starting FSBB at lower secondary levels will better cater to the strength of each student in different subjects and give them a stronger foundation in subjects that they are good at. It is a broad and inclusive approach, creating a more diverse and flexible education system, with opportunities for all.

Eligibility Criteria

Sec 1 students posted in from 2024 onwards are eligible for G3 and G2 subjects for EL/Math/Sc/MTL, based on their PSLE subject grades. They have a choice to decline the offer. Table 1 shows the PSLE Eligibility Criteria for offering the subjects at the various levels.

Sec 1 students who meet the eligibility criteria at Weighted Assessments (WA) may be offered English Language, Mathematics, Science, Mother Tongue Languages at a more demanding level in the next semester. Students reading G1 Humanities may also be offered G2 Humanities at the start of Sec 2, depending on their results in Sec 1.

Table 2 shows the eligibility criteria for offering subjects at more demanding levels at Sec 1 WA2 and EYE examinations. There will be bridging programmes conducted for the students to who joined in at mid-year or end-of-year to close the gaps in their learning.

All Sec 1 students will continue to offer the subjects at the more demanding level in Sec 2 unless otherwise advised by the school.

Full Subject-Based Banding (FSBB)

At Sec 2, students will also be able to offer Humanities subjects (Geography, History, and Literature in English) at a more demanding level. The criteria for taking Humanities at a more demanding level will be based on students' aptitude for and interest in these subjects at Sec 1.

Secondary One	Humanities subjects	School-based assessment	Option to offer Humanities at a more demanding level from Secondary Two:
G2	Geography History Literature in English	Aptitude and interest for specific subject	G3 Geography, History and/or Literature in English (i.e., can offer one or more Humanities subjects at a more demanding level)
G1	Humanities Social Studies component Humanities Exposure Modules (HEMs) in Geography, History and Literature in English	Aptitude in English Language and G1 Humanities	G2 Geography, History and/or Literature in English (i.e., can offer one or more Humanities subjects at a more demanding level)

Only Sec 2 SBB students who have passed their higher-level subjects will be allowed to take subjects at a more demanding level in the upper secondary.

Personalised Digital Learning Programme (PDLP)

Under the PDLP, every secondary school student will own a school-prescribed personal learning device (PLD). The PDLP will allow students to use the PLDs in tandem with the Singapore Student Learning Space (SLS) to personalise and enhance their learning. The PDLP will also better enable students to acquire digital skills and apply these skills as they navigate an increasingly digitalised world.

At PRSS, all students use a Google Chromebook as their PLD. Chromebooks are chosen for their variety of affordances, including seamless learning experiences alongside existing teaching and learning technologies such as the SLS, Google Suite for Education Apps and Microsoft Pro Plus. This device is a touchscreen convertible laptop (i.e., can be used as a laptop or rotated 180° into a tablet) and comes with its own in-built stylus for inking functions. It is also a relatively lightweight and portable device that offers students convenient learning on-the-move.

In addition, all PLDs must be installed with a Device Management Application (DMA) before they can be used in school. The DMA will be uninstalled from the PLD when students graduate/leave the school.

The DMA has three main services:

Mobile Device Management Service (MDM)	Classroom Management Service (CMS)	Usage Management Service (UMS)
Allows the installation of relevant apps for learning and helps support device security.	Helps your teacher manage the PLDs during lessons, and to easily share relevant apps, websites and lesson materials.	Protects you from harmful online content, and sets helpful limits on the use of the PLD.

The DMA must be applied to ALL PLDs for in-school PLD use during school hours (7.00 a.m. to 6.00 p.m. on school days). The default sleep hours are set between 10.30 p.m. and 6.00 a.m. daily, during which the PLD will not be available for use to ensure students have ample time to sleep and rest.

All DMA settings will continue by default after school hours, on weekends and during holidays. However, parents may have different needs and preferences for after-school PLD use and may select a different option which will be communicated separately.

Blended Learning and Student-Initiated Learning (SIL)

It is important for our students to be equipped with the necessary knowledge, skills and dispositions to thrive in an interconnected, diverse and rapidly-changing world. Blended Learning is a key feature of the schooling experience to further develop their ability to be self-directed, passionate and life-long learners. Students will learn what is prescribed by the curriculum through a mix of home-based and in-school activities, and leverage both online and offline approaches to learning. This provides students with more opportunities to learn at their own pace and to be empowered to take charge of their learning.

Through Blended Learning, regularly scheduled HBL days will complement teaching and learning in schools. In PRSS, the HBL days will typically take place fortnightly on odd week Fridays in 2026. The list of confirmed HBL days will be shared on the school website and via Parents' Gateway at the start of every term.

Students who wish to undergo HBL in school due to the lack of a conducive environment at home can put in their request via their Home Teachers. Students will conduct their learning on HBL Days according to the school's planned schedule, similar to those who are at home.

There is also an emphasis on Student-Initiated Learning (SIL), whereby dedicated time and space will be provided to allow students to exercise agency, explore their interests and passions, both within and beyond the curriculum. In tandem with the shift towards the future economy (i.e. Learn for Life), the following themes (ALPS) were conceptualised to build future-ready competencies for our students.

Blended Learning and Student-Initiated Learning (SIL)

To encourage students to take greater ownership of their own learning, the SIL Rubrics and S.T.A.R. learning routine can be used to help students manage, monitor and extend their learning to the real-world context.

STUDENT-INITIATED LEARNING (SIL) RUBRICS

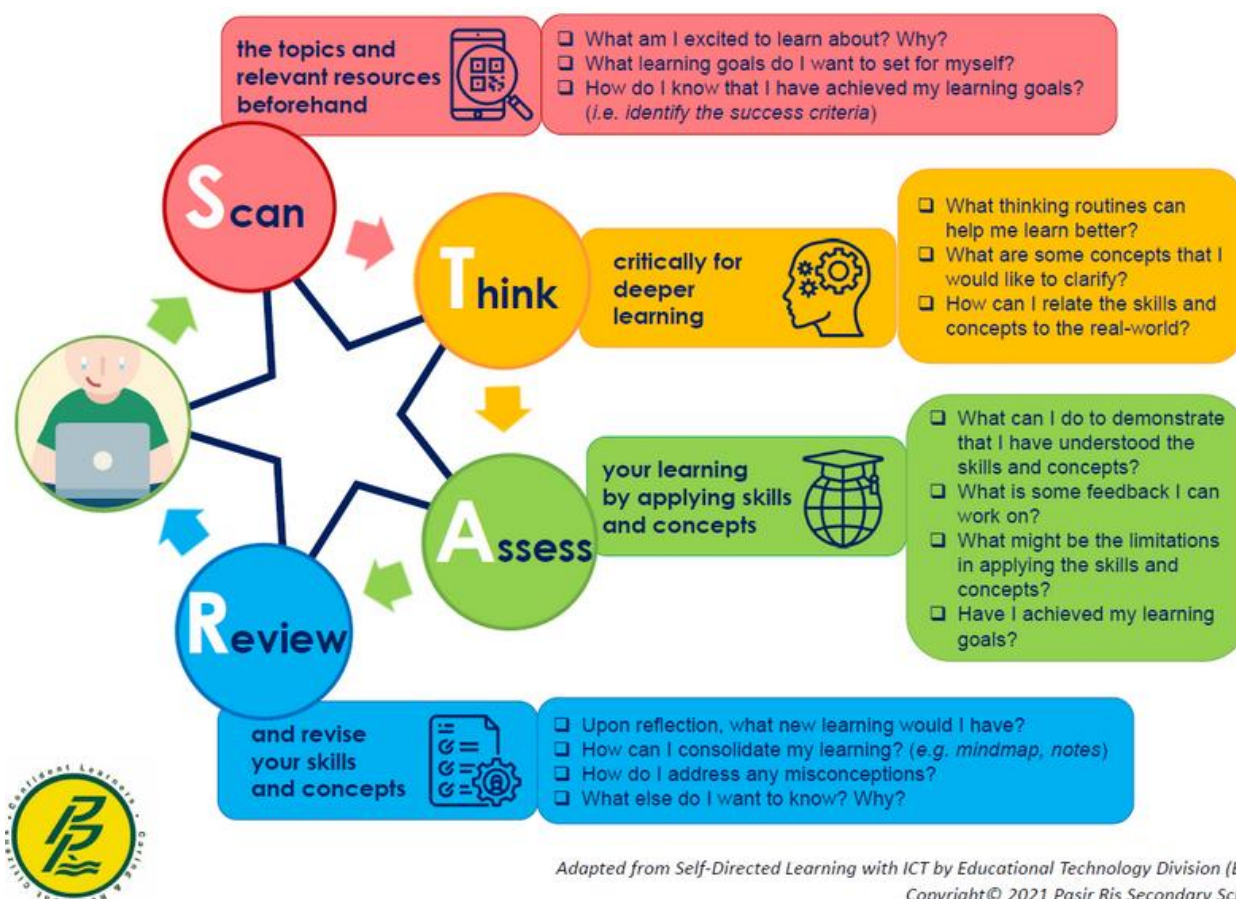

SIL Objective: Student exercises agency, explores his/her interests and passions, both within and beyond the curriculum.

Points to note:

- For students who wish to explore an area of interest, they can submit their proposal via Google Form to their HT
- Students can reflect on their learning using the following rubrics and submit to their HT upon completion of their SIL.

Learning Outcomes	Put a tick (✓) in the appropriate column		Remarks (if any)
	Yes	No
1. I took the initiative to plan my own learning in a specific area of interest.
2. My area of interest is beyond the curriculum / subjects taught in class.
3. I have learnt a new skill and/or gain new knowledge through the SIL.
4. I am able to manage my learning and progress throughout the SIL activity.

The Co-Curricular Activities (CCA) Programme

The CCA Programme provides students with a platform to discover their interests and talents, as well as to develop CCA-specific knowledge, skills, values and attitudes through sustained participation. CCA participation is compulsory for all students in secondary schools. All students are expected to take part in at least one CCA from the four CCA groups, namely, Sports and Games, Uniformed Groups, Performing Arts and Clubs & Societies. Students will be graded according to the LEAPS 2.0 system.

CCA Participation

All students must be enrolled in a CCA throughout their secondary education. Points will be awarded for participation only when attendance rate is above 75%. Students with poor CCA attendance (less than 75%) will be given a conduct grade of fair and their CCA points will not be computed for the year.

All students are encouraged to remain in the CCA assigned to them throughout their secondary education. Changing of CCA will only be considered due to medical reasons. In this case, the LEAPS 2.0 points will not be affected.

Students may participate in more than one CCA on a case-by-case basis approved by the HOD/ PE & CCA.

Bonus points for admission to JC / Poly / ITE

Under LEAPS 2.0, students who obtain an 'Excellent' grade in CCA will be given two bonus points while those who obtain a 'Good' grade will be given one bonus point.

Peer Support Leaders

Supportive Peer Relationships: Building and Sustaining a Caring School Culture

A caring school culture is one where all members of the school community feel safe and cared for, have a sense of belonging for and feel connected to the school. Students experience a caring school culture primarily through positive teacher-student relationships (TSR) and positive student-student relationships (SSR).

Students contribute to a caring and positive school environment when they look out for one another and provide support to their peers in need. With a peer support mindset, our students are able to create a community of care and support amongst peers. This is important as most adolescents would prefer to draw support and strengths from their peers.

The promotion of a peer support mind-set includes:

- Reduce stigma against help-seeking behaviour
- Encourage students to alert a trusted adult when their friends call for help in crisis situations or when the situation calls for adult/expert intervention
- Sustain a supportive and caring school culture for students, by students

Each student will be equipped with skills to:

- Identify sources of social support in their lives
- Be alert to changes in friends' behaviour and recognise common signs of distress
- Render help to their friends
- Seek help from their friends

In PRSS, this approach moves beyond programmes to focus on developing a supportive mindset where every student is a peer supporter who can look out for and provide help to one another. In addition, to promote a caring school culture, two to four students from each class will be officially nominated as the Peer Support Leader (PSL) and will work alongside members of the Class Leaders Committee. Together with their Home Teachers, they will look into improving and supporting the physical and mental well-being of the class.

PSLs who have exemplified strong leadership qualities may also be recommended to take on the role of a PSL Peer Mentor, where they will work with teachers to spearhead student well-being initiatives to strengthen the caring school culture.

Useful Study Tips for Students

1. TAKE NOTES

An effective method to conceptualise what you have learnt in class is to have effective note-taking skills, and to note ideas in a space that you will refer to (e.g. a designated notepad).

The ability to take good notes during lessons will help you in recalling and understanding the content you are learning because:

- You are consistently paying close attention to your teacher's teaching.
- You are thinking of how to make sense of what you are writing on the notepad.
- You are trying to make relevant connections between topics.
- You want the notes to be a point of reference during revision.

There are two methods of note-taking:

- a) Drawing of Mind Maps
- b) Charting and Outlining

You should explore and find the one that is suitable for your learning style.

a) Mind maps

Mind maps are visual diagrams used to organise information and ideas around a central topic. It is a useful technique as it has the potential to bridge relationships between topics. This may be particularly useful for topics with a lot of information that you will need to memorise.

Steps to designing your own mind map

Step 1: On a blank document, write the main topic / idea at the centre of the page.

Step 2: You will branch off from the main topic for subtopics.

Step 3: You will note any important points to each subtopic.

Step 4: You should continue this cycle as long as the lesson is ongoing.

b) Charts and Outlines

Charts and outlines help you to organise notes with headings and bullet point/point forms. For this method, columns are created to outline and organise the information taught during the lesson.

Steps to designing your very own chart

Step 1: You will start by writing the main topic at the top of a blank document.

Step 2: You will begin by writing the first subtopic at the extreme left side and listing the content in a single bullet point below it.

Step 3: You will gradually create more columns (towards the right side) once your teacher introduces you to more sub-topics.

Useful Study Tips for Students

2. INDEPENDENT STUDY

Studying alone at home helps you to minimise possible distractions and encourages you to focus better and discover your learning style.

WHY IS IT IMPORTANT TO MINIMISE DISTRACTIONS WHILE STUDYING?

When you are studying alone at home, you will face fewer distractions than studying in a group or a public place. This could allow you to pace your learning and improve your focus, minimizing time wasted on random chatting that may happen when you study in groups.

WHY DO I NEED A PERSONAL STUDY ENVIRONMENT?

A personal study environment allows you to create your very own study space. Studying alone allows you to explore study tactics that are the most effective to suit your own learning style. You might encounter topics that require some time to understand, and studying alone allows you the time and space to conceptualise what your teacher has taught during lesson.

Tips on How You can be More Productive

1. List down the tasks you are required to act on and complete

Regardless of the timeline or the due date, it is important to note down every single task that you are supposed to complete/accomplish in a planner.

2. Take note of the deadlines

When you have noted down every task in your planner, you will have a clearer picture of what should come first on the list and complete them. You should set reminders of the deadlines in advance too. The reminders will prompt you to complete the task before it is due.

3. Complete the important tasks first

Classify each task into four quadrants based on importance and urgency — important and urgent (do now), important but not urgent (schedule), not important but urgent (delegate), and not important and not urgent (eliminate). [Google ‘Eisenhower Matrix’ to find out more]

4. SETTING SMART GOALS

SMART is an acronym that you can use to guide your goal setting. To make sure your goals are clear and feasible, each one should be:

- Specific (simple, sensible, significant).
- Measurable (meaningful, motivating).
- Achievable (agreed, attainable).
- Relevant (reasonable, realistic and resourced, results-based).
- Time-bound (time-based, time-limited, time/cost limited, timely, time-sensitive).

S	<input type="radio"/> Specific	What exactly do you want to achieve?
M	<input type="radio"/> Measurable	How will you track your advancement?
A	<input type="radio"/> Attainable	Evaluate the feasibility of your goal.
R	<input type="radio"/> Relevant	How does it fit into your broader objectives?
T	<input type="radio"/> Time-bound	What is the deadline?
